St. James' is a community where we come together in Christ to develop spiritually; find opportunities for outreach; receive comfort when in need; and engage in sacred experiences through our liturgy, music, fellowship, and mutual ministry."

From the Rector

My name is Tim and I will be your server for a long time. My hope is that during our time together, I will be able to say two things to you: First, how indebted I am to you for all you do. And second: How grateful I am to you, for the privilege it is to be your priest, your pastor and your friend.

Let me tell you a little bit about myself. First thing, maybe you've noticed, is that I am tall. I've been that way since the first grade and on the top of my head I have the bumps and scars of trying to navigate in to places that were clearly designed for shorter people. I am a father of two beautiful girls, one of whom, Sofie, has a birthday today (September 19)! She's four. I am married to a wonderful human being, Rahel, who, even though she can walk right under my arm has more goodness than it seems her body can contain.

Perhaps what you really want to know, and the reason, I suppose, that I am here with you, is that I have this "thing" for God. I have had a long-time romance with God even though that relationship has sometimes felt like a torrid love affair. And that means something for me. Above all, it means that I pray. I regularly maintain prayer as part of my day. This, to me, is survival. When I am not praying, I don't do so well. I get caught up too easily in my own junk, in my own anxieties and my petty demands wishing that reality would somehow conform to my desires. Prayer for me is the gateway to freedom. It opens to the presence of God and connects to the presence within other people. And my greatest joy in ministry is to share in other's participation in opening to this ultimate mystery who dwells at the source of our being.

Now there are many different ways we can do that. Just as each of us is a unique creation, are there so many ways of opening to God. And it is a marvelous thing, in a community, to watch how the presence and action of God are working in our life.

I would like to say that this is the most important part of being Church. It is the first commandment that Jesus pointed to, "To love the Lord your God with all your heart, soul, and mind." It is also, I'd like to point out, the first part of the mission statement at St. James': "To come together in Christ to develop spiritually". That is quite a statement. And when I first read it, I was thrilled. That is what I am interested in, too, I thought. And I told my friend, "Guess what, St. James is interested in spirituality. It is the first thing in their mission statement." And he, tongue in cheek, dryly responded, "Really? I didn't know that Churches were interested in spirituality."

What does it mean to come together "in Christ"? That can and probably does mean different things to each of you. And as we move forward together, I want to learn more about what that is for you.

I'll share a bit of my own sense of this: When we come together in Christ, when we are able to put aside our own egos and agendas and open to that ultimate mystery dwelling within, that changes the way we respond to the world. We become more aware, we notice things we may not have noticed before. And our response is not from the level of reaction which stems from our own individual ways of getting caught-up in security concerns, or demands to have more things to stimulate our senses, or our ridiculous demands to be in control.

When we come together in Christ, in prayer, in worship, in relationship, in ministry together, when we are wide-open to that sacred presence within, we become able to respond to the needs of others and the world around us from a divine source. Which is picked-up in the next part of the mission statement: Comforting the needy, finding opportunities for outreach.

The Gospel lesson this week tells us "That whoever is faithful in very little, is faithful also in much." Most of us this week, won't win a medal, get married, be on television, cure a disease, or do anything that big. But there will be many opportunities to greet someone who is new to St. James', to speak a word of kindness to a stranger, to smile at somebody, to read a book to a child, to listen attentively to what someone is telling us. We can be faithful in the very little things that each moment opens before us. And as we are faithful to those little things together, all things become possible. Margaret Mead famously said, to never doubt "that a small group of committed people can change the world. In fact, it is the only thing that ever has."

I'd like to be clear that I see us as equal partners in this ministry; we are equal partners in living out this mission. In the back of the prayer book, in the section called the Catechism, it asks, Who are the ministers of the Church? The answer is, The Laity and the Clergy. Here at St. James', we call it Mutual Ministry.

I believe we can do some really good ministry together. You are a wonderful community of people; and you have extraordinary talents, and gifts and resources. And that requires that we both be faithful in the little things. You will be faithful in what you are able to give and I promise to serve you. I will love and care for you in the best way I can.

And the rest, we'll leave up to God.

—Rev. Tim Reger

Vestry News

The Vestry met on September 15th. We welcomed Fr. Tim to his first St. James vestry meeting. He indicated that he will be present at the meetings but preferred that one of the wardens continue to chair the meetings.

Craig Heuss gave the finance report and discussed the budget. The Investment Ministry group has determined that we can draw on the interest from our investments. We had not yet done so this year due to the weak financial situation; we did not want to erode the investments and, also, the Investments Ministry group needed to investigate some of stipulations of a designated account.

Senior Warden Jim White reported that the standing committee of the Diocese on Central New York has approved our application to list the Lewis house. The vestry voted to appoint a committee to help manage the sale of the Lewis house; the vestry will need to approve the list price. Jim also announced that Blair Jones will be this year's stewardship chair. We thank her for this ministry and commitment to St. James.

We also briefly discussed the open Church School Director and vestry positions, and listened to a proposal by John Pick for possible use for the proceeds of the Lewis house sale. We discussed the need for an up-dated or revamped sound amplification system in the church, and voted to appoint a committee to investigate this issue; Jan Wilson has volunteered to chair this committee.

In reflection upon the meeting at its close, we noted that all of the ministry groups are doing an excellent job within their own ministry area, in working with other groups, and in reporting to the vestry. Their good work is part of St. James' continued mutual ministry. We encourage all vestry members and anyone who is a part of a ministry group, or would like to take a more active role in St. James to attend the Mutual Ministry Review (MMR) on October 9th. Details appear in another article in this newsletter. In addition, anyone interested in serving on the vestry beginning Jan. 2011, please contact Fr. Tim or one of the wardens.

Parish Life

Parish Life is Looking Ahead

The Parish Life Ministry Group has met and has started to plan for a number of fellowship gatherings in the coming fall months. We are always looking to welcome others to join us and share new ideas. Speak to Wendy Weber or to Randy Wilson about Parish Life.

We will be contacting a number of parish members to host "Living Room Eucharists" with Father Tim, during some weekday evenings in October and November. These will be groups of 10-12 people who gather in a parish member's home and celebrate the Eucharist. Tim looks forward to meeting and visiting with folks and families in the more relaxed setting offered in a living room. Specific dates and sign-up sheets are posted in the Parish Hall.

Also in November, set aside Wednesday evening, November 10, as we welcome Bishop Skip Adams for the official Installation and Celebration of New Ministry for Father Tim Reger at St. James. There will be sign-up sheets posted for donations of baked goods and treats for the reception that will follow the Celebration Service.

In December, we will enjoy the Goodies and Greens Bazaar on Saturday, December 4. Holly Horner is again chairing this event, and is asking for handmade items, holiday decorations and baked goods to be donated. Everyone will want to learn more about a very special expanded Holiday Coffee Hour being planned for Sunday, December 5. Talents of St. James' folks will be featured! If you would like to sing, read a poem, play an instrument, etc., for a "Three Minute Act," please call Holly Horner at 853-2650.

Sunday, December 19, will be Greening of the Church, following the morning service. Our annual Christmas Caroling evening will be later that day as well.

Watch for more details as these dates draw closer!

Peace be with you all,

—The Parish Life Ministry Group

Children's Ministry

Sunday School at St. James will feature 6 sessions on the Lord's Prayer, Sunday mornings at 9:30. We will have coordinating videos and handouts. It would be great if families would review the Lord's Prayer at home.

We are also using this time to talk about prayer. Adults are welcome to join us, the material is very user friendly. We expect this series on the Lords Prayer will take us into November. Advent Season will then be upon us and we will look at the seasons of the church. Any ideas please share them with us.

Worship & Formation

Spirituality Groups

“St. James’ is a community where we come together in Christ to develop spiritually” – first line of our Mission Statement.

The Women’s Spirituality Group is open to any woman who wants to explore more deeply her connection to God. The group meets the first Monday of each month. Their next meeting is October 4, 7:15pm at St. Margaret’s House and Ecumenical Center, Jordan Rd., New Hartford. They are reading Uncommon Gratitude: Alleluia for All That Is by Joan Chittisler and Rowan Williams.

The Men’s Group meets every Friday, 7:30am, in the St. James’ library. Currently, they are reading The Great Emergence, How Christianity Is Changing and Why by Phyllis Tickle; Alistair leads the discussions.

Each Wednesday, the Lectionary Group meets at noon in the St. James library to read and discuss the upcoming readings from the Revised Common Lectionary (RCL). No preparation is needed, and we welcome all, from any denomination (and seekers). Favorite translations of the Bible are welcome. Feel free to bring your lunch.

Vestry Day

October 2, 8:30am-3:30pm

Zion Episcopal Church, 140 W. Liberty St., Rome, hosts a Vestry Day designed to give vestry members and those interested in being vestry members in the near future some practical background, tools, and resources to carry out their mission. Lunch, snacks, and all materials are included. There is a $5 registration fee.

We anticipate several 2-year and 3-year terms on the St. James vestry starting Jan. 2011. If you are interested in church leadership, are wondering how things get done, or are considering being on the St James vestry in the near future, we strongly urge you to attend this event. If you have any questions about the Vestry Day, contact Kathy Dengler at the Bishop’s Office, 474-6596 or kdengler@cny.anglican.org.

Blessing of the Animals

St. Francis Day, Sunday, Oct. 3

Join us on Sunday, Oct. at 4pm on the Village Green as we remember St. Francis with our Blessing of the Animals service. Receive a special blessing for your animal loved one(s) and yourself, and enjoy some fellowship. For question, such as, whether you can bring your tiger, please contact the church office at 853-5359.

Celebration of New Ministry

Save this date: Wednesday, November 10, 7pm

We celebrate the Life and Mission of St. James Church and officially welcome the Rev. Timothy S. Reger as our new minister. The Right Rev. Bishop Adams will preside over this service of installation of Fr. Tim as the eighteenth Rector of our Parish. This is a big celebration in the life of the church. All are invited to attend. There will be a reception after the service. Details to come.

Safe Church Training

The Episcopal Church requires that all who work with young children or youth receive “Safe Church” training in the prevention of child abuse and adult sexual misconduct. Also, all people, paid staff, parishioners and volunteers are encouraged to consider being trained. Every trained pair of eyes we have in our church represents our continued commitment to be a safe, welcoming place for all.

The next scheduled Safe Church Training is at St. Alban’s, Syracuse on Sunday, October 24, 1-5pm (1308 Meadowbrook Drive). Snacks and beverages will be provided. Contact the St. Alban’s parish office, 446-3490, to sign up. Once you have completed the training, let Sharon Pick, our administrative assistant, or one of the wardens know so we can add your name to our list and acknowledge your ministry.

Parish and Diocesan Events

Pre-Convention Meeting - October 6, 6:30pm

Gethsemane Episcopal Church, Sherrill, hosts the local pre-convention regional meeting. The meeting is open to all, not just clergy and convention delegates. The agenda includes a presentation of the Proposed 2011 Diocesan Budget, resolutions that have been submitted for Convention, and remarks by Bishop Adams. Anyone interested in learning more about the working of the Diocese is encouraged to attend. The Diocesan Convention is November 19-21. Wendy Weber and Alistair Campbell are our delegates, and Matt Weber and Karen Anderson are our alternates, but anyone can attend the open meetings.

Mutual Ministry Review

Saturday, Oct. 9

Our Mutual Ministry Review is Saturday, Oct. 9, 9am to noon. All vestry members, staff, and chairs of leadership groups should attend. We also welcome any others who are interested. During this time, we will review what St. James has done and learned during the Interim period (our time between priests), and begin to discern our future shared ministry with Fr. Tim. Mark Betley of the Centre for Theocentric Leadership will facilitate.

Worship Leader Training Program

Saturday, November 6th

Trinity Memorial Church, Binghamton.

This program is for anyone interested in becoming a licensed lay worship leader, or who simply wants to know more about lay ministry (preaching or leading services). If you are wondering if this may be your calling, please talk to Fr. Tim and plan to attend this first session. Currently licensed leaders are required to attend.

Participants of this program will learn to design and lead vibrant and creative non-Eucharistic worship services. The program is offered by the Formation for Ministry Team and the Liturgy & Music Commission

Outreach

CROP Walk, October 24

Each year some two million CROP Hunger Walkers, volunteers, and sponsors put their hearts and soles in motion to raise money to help end hunger and poverty around the world and in their own communities, while building for a better tomorrow. The event is sponsored by Church World Service with participation of local churches. This year, the walk takes place Sunday, October 24 with registration at Stone Church at 1pm. The walk ends with refreshments at St. James. Look for announcements in the worship bulletins later this month.

Water for the People of El Carmen Saturday, October 16, 7pm

Christ Church, Manlius, and Trinity, Fayetteville, are hosting a fundraiser entitled Water for El Salvador: A Benefit for the People of El Carmen. The benefit, at Christ Church, Manlius, includes appetizers, desserts, a silent auction, raffle baskets, and a presentation from participants in the Mission of Miracles Medical Mission in El Salvador. Music will be provided by a string quartet from the Syracuse Children's Symphony. Tickets are $35

The Outreach Committee of Christ Church has responded to a sense of call to address Millennium Development Goal 7: Environmental Sustainability. One of the primary targets of this goal is to "Halve, by 2015, the proportion of the population without sustainable access to safe drinking water and basic sanitation." The artesian pump fundraiser is part of the church's ongoing relationship with the people of the village of El Carmen in our companion diocese. For more information, to reserve tickets, or to make a donation, please contact Christ Church, 682-5795, or rav-christchurch@windstream.net.

News from Joanna Phillely

I just wanted to let you know that all is going really well south of the border. I am meeting new people and learning new things each and everyday. The people here have been so welcoming and warm. I live in a more residential neighborhood of the city called San Angel. My apartment is on a compound where others work and live. It is a very nice community to be a part of. The city is amazing... I feel very safe here. I am so grateful to be with these amazing people and in this vibrant city!

I work in the national office from 9-2, Monday through Friday. I hope to soon use my afternoons to volunteer here in Mexico City. I am still getting settled in my job and look forward to telling you more about it in the next newsletter.

I visit different churches in the diocese over the weekends. I have really enjoyed being a part of these communities. My first weekend here, I went to San Mateo in Teculco. We had a cookout at Los Palomas (a park near the Popocatepetl Volcano) with some of their youth and families. It was a wonderful day... I look forward to many more experiences like that in the future.

I would like to thank you from the bottom of my heart for all your support. I truly feel lifted up by all the good thoughts and prayers being said for me. Please continue to keep me in your thoughts and prayers and know that you are in mine. All the best!

Christ's Peace and Love,
Joanna

♪♪ Music ♪♪

Congregations gone wild? So a New York Times article, dated Aug. 8, 2010 states: "The pastoral vocation is to help people grow spiritually, resist their lowest impulses and adopt higher, more compassionate ways. But churchgoers increasingly want pastors to soothe and entertain them. It's apparent in the theater-style seating and giant projection screens in churches.... Congregations that make such demands seem not to realize that most clergy don't sign up to be soothsayers or entertainers." Yes, entertainers—that's where I come in. If pastors have this challenge, Ministers of Music do as well. The St. James' choirs know how I feel about this subject, as, once in a while, I find myself reminding us all that, no matter how much fun we are having and how well we happen to sing at a particular service, the bottom line is that we are worship leaders, not performers at a concert. Of course, you cannot remove the entertainment factor in an anthem or sung psalm (and why on earth would I want to do that?!) But hopefully, the beauty of the music and lyrics will inspire us and lead to a better understanding of why we have come together.

A perfect example of this challenge would be the Youth Choir anthem, sung on Sept. 19th, the first service officiated by Tim. This anthem took the place of the Gospel hymn, not because it would streamline the service and provide extra entertainment on a special Sunday, but because the words and mood of the piece were perfect for our readings (using our earthly resources to help others) and for the beginning of Tim's calling at our church:

"Jesus said, 'Feed my sheep, dry the tears of those who weep. If you do this lovingly, you've done it unto me.'" Jesus said, 'Feed my lambs. In this world you are my hands. Bear the burden willingly, and do it all for me.' So feed the hungry, clothe the poor, give the weary rest. And if we do it all in Jesus' name, then he will be our guest."

—Richard Lloyd

Organ Donation Registry

David Bornick died while waiting for a lung transplant. More of the 8,000-10,000 New Yorkers on the transplant waiting lists might live if enough people enroll in the state organ donor registry. In memory of David and in honor of his parents, we are encouraging everyone in the parish over the age of 17 to consider registering. Note that the laws changed in 2006, so even if you thought you were registered, you may still have to fill out a consent form. Please pick up a pamphlet from the back of the church or go to <http://www.nyhealth.gov/professionals/patients/donation/organ/> and fill out a simple form to enroll yourself in the New York State Donate Life Registry.

Treasurer's Report

Thanks to all for your continued support of St. James. If you have fallen behind on your pledge donations over the summer months, please catch up as soon as you are able. Your donations are needed to pay for our buildings and upkeep, staff salaries, and church programs. Third quarter statements will be mailed mid-October for your records. If you have any questions or concerns about your statement, please contact the church office or Jan Wilson.

The Finance Committee will be presenting a budget projection for 2011 to the vestry in October. After the vestry has reviewed it, we will make copies available for parishioners. Your continued financial support will be extremely important as we begin planning for 2011. Please prayerfully consider increasing your pledge to St. James as you are able, as we start an exciting new journey with Father Tim.

God Bless.

—Jan Wilson

From the Church Mouse

Before I lament being displaced by a new family in the rectory, and missing the September deadline, I want to welcome our new rector and family, Fr. Tim, Rahel, Anna, and Sofie. To keep peace between our two families and avoid being teased by the cats, or worse, my family and I moved to the furnace room.

The welcome for Fr. Tim and his beautiful family made for a delightfully happy time. Fr. Tim's first service was glorious; prayers, music, and sermon were perfect, and the reception following provided a great time of fellowship. I believe we are off to a wonderful, spirit-filled time together as we live into a mission statement.

Do you know that the year 2010 marks the 75th anniversary of the Forward Movement, publishers of Forward Day By Day? To celebrate this milestone a team of volunteers reviewed every meditation that appeared in Forward Day By Day for the past 75 years. The names of the authors are not given, only a descriptive word or two about the writers whose meditations appear in each publication. Over the years I have had my favorite writers that I could identify by their interpretation of the scriptures. On June 6, 2010 I read one of my favorite authors from 1998, a prisoner, since released, who will write again in 2011. If you have not read one of these little publications I recommend it to you as a quiet thought for the end of your day.

God's blessing to all, Cedric
