

Robert B. Colt, DDS

Augusta Family Dentistry

Education

"Education is crucial in dentistry today. One must improve his knowledge of patient care and the advancements in technology through continuing education. This design for improvement allows dentists to better understand our patients' oral health needs and how to best meet those needs."

DDS: University of Colorado Health Sciences Center
BS: Medical Sciences, University of Colorado, Denver, CO

In his four years as a dentist, Dr. Robert B. Colt has continually exceeded the continuing education requirements to maintain his dental license. Dr. Colt has completed nearly 600 continuing education hours during his career.

Leadership

"In 2008, I joined Dr. Paul Mitsch at Augusta Family Dentistry because of the level of patient care and the state-of-the-art technology housed within Augusta Family Dentistry. Working with Dr. Paul Mitsch has allowed me to mentor to other dentists and to become a part of the dental community."

In 2007, Dr. Robert B. Colt joined Dr. Paul Mitsch at Augusta Family Dentistry as full partner and practicing dentist. Dr. Colt, a native of Denver, Colorado, graduated in 2004 with his Doctor of Dental Surgery from the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center. Dr. Colt also received his Bachelor of Medical Science from the University of Colorado in 2000.

Dr. Colt is a legacy dentist as his father was a dentist and, at one time, the two shared a practice. In addition, Dr. Colt recently finished his residency at the American Academy of Craniofacial Pain and is the youngest dentist in the world to have received his Fellowship from the American Academy of Craniofacial Pain.

Since joining Augusta Family Dentistry, Dr. Colt has mentored other dentists in the implementation and use of the Bio-PAK and JVA system. He has also given lectures to area dentists on headaches and Craniofacial pain.
