Michael S. Holihan paints an End Times perspective that will shock most people. As the former Associate Editor of an International Civil Defense magazine, coupled with his military upbringing and travels to England, Europe and the Holy Land, he has an exceptional grasp of current affairs, both seen and unseen. For over 30 years, he has been a fervent student of history, science and religion which has imparted to him a keen awareness that the past and present can only be understood by peering into the invisible spiritual conflict.

He currently lives in Texas with his wife and family and teaches Sunday school. He has spoken at lectures, seminars, radio programs and authored various study guides concerning preparedness and Eschatology. His descriptive style mixed with graphic imagery creates a startling portrait that offers illumination on the shadowy subject of Last Days.
